cyborg

- /'sʌɪbɔ:g/
- noun
- noun: cyborg; plural noun: cyborgs
- a fictional or hypothetical person whose physical abilities are extended beyond normal human limitations by mechanical elements built into the body.

Cyborg according to Donna Haraway

“(...) It is not clear who makes and who is made in the relation between human and machine. It is not clear what is mind and what is body in machines (...).

Insofar as we know ourselves in both formal discourse (...) and in daily practice (...), we find ourselves to be cyborgs, hybrids, mosaics, chimeras.’

A photograph of two women in a forest setting. The woman on the left is Black, wearing glasses and a brown top, with her hands on a wooden fence. The woman on the right is white, wearing a light blue shirt, with her hands also on the fence. They appear to be in conversation or a collaborative activity. The background is a blurred forest with trees and foliage.
